TED'A Arquitectes is a tiny studio located in Mallorca guided by Irene Pérez and Jaume Mayol.

Irene Pérez (1976). Architect from ETSA Vallés (2001). Woodcock Oldenburg scholarship (1998). Faculty of Roma Tre scholarship (1999).

Jaume Mayol (1976). Architect from ETSA Vallés (2000). PhD in Architecture Cum Laude from UPC (2010).

They have been collaborating with several academic institutions such as ETSA Vallés, ETSALS Barcelona, IE School of Architecture in Madrid, Accademia di Architettura di Mendrisio and Cornell University among others. More recently they have been Workshop leaders at Porto Academy 2017.

TED'A arquitectes work is based in normal daily life far away from exceptions and icons. They look forward while looking back. Tradition is a key element. However it is not approached from its folkloric side but, closer to its etymological origins, it is understood as a delicate trip from the past to bring tradition, culture and materiality back into the present.

They produce a sincere and honest architecture that does not hide the truth of its construction. They prefer evolution rather than revolution. Their architecture is just a scenario for life to unfold. And it is life with the help of time who will, eventually, transform those spaces into magnificent places.
