

"IN THE SEARCH OF URBAN
QUALITY, URBAN FORM
AND URBAN LIFE"

"A heightened awareness of the complex relation between Architecture and Urban Design demands a renewed exploration of the different processes in the making of urban places. No longer is a single image able to capture the layered complexity of an Urban Landscapes's many dynamics and their operation in time. It is time to examine the role of processes, both design processes and the processes of the city itself, in the making of more meaningful Architecture and more livable Places."
